

INDIANA
COUNCIL OF ENGINEERING SOCIETIES

September 4, 2008
For Immediate Release

INDIANAPOLIS, IN -- ASME - Central Indiana Section, and IEEE - Central Indiana Section are hosting a banquet and networking event to benefit the Indiana Council of Engineering Societies (ICES) and the Bridge to Engineering Scholarship. The event will be held beginning at 5:00pm on Friday, October 17th at the Radisson, Indianapolis Airport.

In speaking of the event, ASME-CIS Chair Kim Dunlap stated, "This event provides a unique opportunity for the Indianapolis technical community to share green technology and professional development opportunities while contributing to a great cause."

Exhibits related to green technology and technical education will be presented in the Radisson ballroom lobby beginning at 5:00pm. Exhibits from the U.S. Department of Agriculture, Stellar Wind Bio Energy LLC, and Rose-Hulman Institute of Technology will be featured, among others.

Will Kassebaum, Co-CEO of Stellar Wind Bio Energy, shared his thoughts on this opportunity, "Participation in this event allows Stellar Wind to showcase the exciting technologies we are developing, and to see what strides other organizations have made in developing alternative energy and green technology."

A benefit dinner will follow the technical exhibits at approximately 7:00pm. Special guest speakers Jesse Kharbanda of the Hoosier Environmental Council, Jim Trueblood of Cummins, Inc., and Les MacTaggart of the Indy Racing League will address the audience with various green-technology related topics.

Highlighting the evening will be presentation of the Bridge to Engineering Scholarship, intended to reward a graduating college senior who will make a profound impact in the fields of science and engineering in the state of Indiana.

For more information on this event, including the Bridge to Engineering Scholarship, attendance information, or exhibit opportunities, contact Dan Gallagher, event coordinator at 765-721-1159 or dpatrickgallagher@gmail.com.